Ed's Note

The crux of development, two way communication

Development communications speaks to us as a municipality having a two way communications in order to inform, educate, mobilise and to get feedback from you. Communities need to be kept abreast of developmental initiatives that affect all of us. The role of the Communications/Marketing Unit is to make sure that you make use of this platform to be educated about where the administrative and political leadership respectively want to lead this organisation. Are we living up to these standards or has development communication lost its meaning?

The past financial year had its communication challenges but we are delighted to say irrespective of the challenges we stood the test of time. Yes public participation can be a daunting task. We however need you as communities to commit to those endless meetings we call to keep you updated about progress on capital projects or to inform you about internal control measures taken to overcome shortfalls that needed to be attended. This will in turn curb rumours about developmental initiatives taken by council. Be the first to know.

We are grateful once more to be able to interact with you. I mean it in a real sense when I say this newsletter is one of the mediums we use to interact with our communities. We hope this will be a true interaction and not just one sided or one way communication. You also need to claim your role by taking an active part in these developmental initiatives by interacting with us. Help us help you.

I believe as citizens we should be proud to take part in the business of our government. We should move away from the notion of hear says. Why is it that we fail to inform the developmental agenda of our municipality and advance economic and social development in our town? I am challenging all Naledi communities as we start our fourth generation Integrated Development Process Plan to take charge. In this we will realise the goals of development communication. It will work for us. Let us take this opportunity to be educated, informed and most importantly to be empowered to take rightful decisions regarding development.

It's about time we start being active citizens and stop putting blame when those who are active see the realisation and implementation of plans. Ignorance is the root of all problems.

In this edition we look at how Naledi has responded to the Eskom account, 12 roads, Huhudi and Colridge, crime, development of social amenities and many more. Remember to read and pass to your neighbour. Sharing is caring.

Foreword by the Mayor

Let me take this opportunity to thank the Naledi team for a sterling performance through the past financial year, 2014/15. Both the political and administrative leadership of this institution made efforts to ensure good governance and that services are rendered. We are a step closer to a clean audit and we hope not to regress as the audit season approach from the unqualified audit opinion as expressed by the audit outcome of the past audit.

Our approach to clean audit is reflected by the newly adopted IDP/Budget of the 2015/16 financial year. We are consolidating our efforts and want to bring to our communities a peoples' driven IDP/Budget. We consulted with you and after careful consideration of projects you would envisage this municipality to carry out for you in this financial year; we are going to implement that which we can through collections and revenue allocated to us. I am encouraging you to familiarise yourselves with these two important documents in order to hold us accountable and play an active role in the developmental initiatives of your municipality.

Service delivery is pivotal in all our planning. Back to basics will be our theme through this financial year. The Sports Facilities both in Colridge and Huhudi have been successfully completed. We look forward to avail these much needed social amenities to our communities. We have also in the past financial year managed to patch potholes and resealed and re-gravelled roads in all of Naledi.

The Premier's Setsokotsane program marked the beginning of a rigorous infrastructure master plan to follow in this financial year. For the roads section alone we need at least R19 million just to cover basics, that is your pothole patching, re-gravelling and resealing. We need roads that are in good working conditions and we will stop at nothing to realise this goal. We want to thank the Project Management Unit Team for scoring us bonus money in that this financial year we will see at least 12 roads being paved in Huhudi and Colridge.

We have started with the electrification project in extension 25 and 28 which will be completed soon. We have also done community lighting in that area as well as all other wards. It is safe to indicate that most of our wards are safe in terms of lighting. We are also offering uninterrupted services with regards to refuse removal. Let us cooperate by also paying for services we consume so that our service delivery goals can be achieved

We can assure you as the political leadership of this municipality that service delivery is always at the back of our minds. Let us do this basic responsibility we pride as we move Naledi forward to greater heights. ■

Office of the Speaker

The past financial year 2014/15 was much productive for us as Naledi. We committed to improved community participation. We have had our challenges but the struggle still continues. As we begin the new financial year, 2015/16 I continue to urge you to be active citizens and to own developmental initiatives in your respective wards.

We have within the legislative framework exercised oversight in all matters as reflected by monthly portfolio committee meetings, quarterly ordinary council sittings and Municipal Public Accounts Committee meetings. In this financial year we have had at least 30 meetings held by this current political leadership excluding Special Council Meetings.

This therefore says there is political leadership in Naledi Local Municipality and we as council are on top of our business. We did commit at the beginning of the last financial year that political oversight will be fully implemented and we have kept our promise.

We managed to establish ward committees that add value and are functional. Monthly reporting to the speaker's office bears testimony to this. I would like to urge you as citizens to know your ward committee members. These are the eyes and ears of the council. They get first-hand information and then disseminate it accordingly. Work with them as they are the ones that are in a position to identify interventions that the municipality should urgently attend to. We also managed to take them for capacity building so they can serve you better as our communities.

Public Participation is the heart beat of my office. We need to keep you informed of the business of the municipality. We have had a number of public meetings in the past financial year. In certain wards, attendance was very poor. I cannot stop overemphasizing just how crucial it is for us to attend these meetings to mitigate and eliminate hearsays. To get information from the horse's mouth is empowering. We would like to take this opportunity for thanking those that always hid our call, we appreciate it.

We need to work together as communities of Naledi to stop some of the dreadful acts of violence against our foreign brothers and sisters that we experienced in the past. We need to work together in moving Naledi forward towards a peaceful community. It is your democratic right to protest but violent protest is a crime. We worked well with the Community Police Forum and we encourage other Non -Governmental Organisations and the private sector to come on board and work with us to stop criminal elements and opportunism in protests.

*Cllr N.G Mathiba

This financial year we are more than determined to fulfil that which we said in the last edition of this newsletter. Hold us accountable and help us to move Naledi forward in the following areas:

1. Basic Service Delivery
2. Good Governance
3. Financial Management
4. Community Satisfaction and
5. Institutional Management

Keep the line of communication open through various platforms availed to use. Use our Facebook page to keep us informed of hindrances to service delivery. We are using these platforms to keep you informed. We are here to serve you so utilise us accordingly. ■

Message by the Municipal Manager

Eskom Agreement: Assurance to Ratepayers and Investors

Naledi Local Municipality has been in the news as one of the municipalities owing Eskom with the latter threatening a total black-out for defaulters. This in turn caused uncertainty about electricity supply among ratepayers, businesspeople and potential investors.

The Constitution mandates our municipality to create an environment that is conducive for social and economic development. To this end, we have acted swiftly and entered into a repayment agreement with Eskom even before the latter went on media offensive with threats to cut supply. For the past eight (8) months, we have paid the current account and a substantial amount towards the arrears.

Needless to say, this has put a lot of strain on the already dire cash flow situation of the municipality. This is due to the fact the municipality is making an audited 22% loss on electricity supply. It means that other services are cross subsidizing electrical services and, by implication, funding the payment of Eskom current account and arrears.

The losses can be attributed to a number of factors and chief among these are technical losses occasioned by old infrastructure. Other reasons to a large extent are attributed to tampering with electricity meters and by-passing by residents and businesses. We have appealed to those who are engaged in these nefarious activities to stop and come forward to report but to no avail.

We were therefore left with no option but to conduct a full investigation, going door to door, to uproot this culture of tampering and institute both criminal and civil actions against property owners and tenants alike. The only way to keep up with the Eskom bill is to ensure that the consumers pay their accounts in full as they become due.

It is against this background that management instituted internal control measures by implementing the Smart

*Modisenyane Segapo

Meter Program. This will help the municipality to collect for what was rightfully consumed. It will help consumers to manage their consumption. It's a win-win situation and in turn the system also modernizes electricity metering and therefore creating a 'Smart Town'.

Naledi Local Municipality is among only seven (7) municipalities in South Africa that participates in the European Union-funded pilot project to install smart metres. We applied to the South African National Energy Development Institute (SANEDI) in line with our ambitious plan to become a smart city in the not-too-distant future. ■

Clean Audit One Step Away

Operation Clean Audit by 2014 has come and gone but challenges still remain. We regret having missed this target but we are delighted that we have been able to present financial statements to the Auditor-General which fairly present the use of public finances in a credible manner. The challenge preventing us from making it to the elite position of clean audit has to do with compliance with all laws governing local government, doing away with unauthorized expenditure, irregular, fruitless and wasteful expenditure.

We have, however, developed an action plan to enable us to deal with these difficult challenges. We are in it for the long haul because we know that institutional capacity-building is a long term program that takes time to achieve. We need our communities to join hands with us and pay for services so as to prevent wasteful and fruitless expenditure which come about as a result of the municipality being cash-strapped.

We have also budgeted for important programs so as to avoid unauthorised expenditure which is caused by doing necessary, unavoidable things which are not budgeted for. The need for a cash-backed budget often leaves us with no other but to cut expenses where we are not sure about the sources of income or cost recovery for services rendered. A clean audit is therefore not just a finance matter; it is about a functional, viable municipality with effective internal control mechanisms, systems, processes and policies in place. ■

David Thornhill
Chief Financial Officer

National Grant Expenditure: Incentive Bonuses and Awards

The National Treasury is a key partner in service delivery without which it would be highly impossible for Naledi Local Municipality to carry out the massive infrastructure development it has implemented. In fact, 60% of the municipality's source of revenue comes from the National Treasury. Key amongst these grants is the Municipal Infrastructure Grant (MIG) and Integrated National Electrification Program (INEP).

Our MIG allocation is not nearly enough to build the infrastructure needed for basic services. With this in mind, we have ensured over the last couple of years that this grant is used to derive maximum impact with focus on priorities identified in the needs analysis phase of the IDP wherein communities were consulted extensively.

Mr L Moinwe and Mrs I Botha receive awards for 100% expenditure on MIG

One of the new completed roads in Huhudi (Brenda Fuleni Street)

To this end, we have achieved 100% expenditure of MIG. In recognition of this achievement, the national department of Cooperative Governance and Traditional Affairs and National Treasury gave Naledi Local Municipality an incentive bonus by allocating an additional R7m. This additional grant was used to build seven (7) streets in Huhudi namely: Aukatze, Lokwaloeng, Bareki, Ngaba, Thibogang, Matlhoko and Mokgosi Streets.

The provincial government awarded Naledi positions 1 and 2 in the expenditure the Project Management Unit (PMU) and efficiency by PMU respectively. Congratulations go to our Project Management Unit which consists of Mr. Lebogang Moinwe, Ms. Ina Botha, Ms. Charlotte Motswadira, Mr. Donald Seleka and Ms. Bonolo Mokalake.

As if to prove that the 100% expenditure was not a fluke, this feat was repeated again in the 2014/15 financial year and this time the incentive bonus was increased to R14m. This grant will be used to build 11 streets in Huhudi and namely: Isaac Peloeng, Elizabeth Moroka, Jomo Khasu, Brenda Fuleni, Albert Kekesi, Sello Maphalle, Korana, Tladi, Mathimba, Motlalelang and Du Plessis Street in Colridge.

In simple terms, we have, through efficient and effective management of the MIG funds, secured additional funding for 18 streets would have taken years to build. In monetary terms, we have received an additional R21m in incentive bonuses in the past two financial years. Well done to the PMU. ■

Hayes Park Development

Mama Ruth Mompoti at the unveiling of her sculpture with the Mayor of Naledi: ST Modise, The mayor of Dr RSM District Municipality: Elivs Tladinyane, Premier: Supra Mahumapelo, Mayor of Greater Taung: Kaone Lobelo, MECs, Tribal leaders and other veterans

Hayes Park Development Project Hand-Over and Dr. Ruth Segomotsi Mompoti's Sculpture Unveiled by Premier

After years of battling to revive the project which was intended to revamp Hayes Park, the municipality ultimately managed to get the Department of Public Works and the Independent Development Trust (IDT) to honour their commitment to implement this project. New public toilets have been constructed, old toilets have been revamped, pathways have been paved, braai facilities have been built, lights have been installed, grass and flowers planted to beautify our surroundings. As a safety measure against vandalism, theft and illegal use of park for illegal occupation by gypsies, a fence has been constructed and security has been appointed for access control.

More importantly, the sculpture of Dr. Ruth Segomotsi Mompoti was unveiled by none other than the Premier of the North West Province, Hon. Supra Mahumapelo. This in line with the intention of the municipality, expressed through a council resolution, to rename the park after her and in honour of her sterling contribution to the building of a democratic South Africa. The community consultation process will be undertaken to ensure that all views are considered and all legal processes will be followed to give reasons for this proposed project. We might even follow up with the declaration of the park as a heritage site, with all its funding advantages.

In the meantime, we commit ourselves to maintain the park and keep it in its beautiful, green and aesthetically impressive state. A dedicated team of contract workers work in the park daily and a parks manager who is trained in horticulture is the overall manager of the park. The park has changed the character and outlook of the town and our focus is now turning to the Stelleland Park, which is in a terrible state. We shall endeavor to secure funding for this project to demonstrate our commitment to take care of our parks, especially those in the national roads for tourism attraction purposes. ■

Water Crisis

Overcoming Water Crisis through Intergovernmental Relations Framework

The shortage of water in Naledi Local Municipality in general and Huhudi in particular, has been the major challenge facing the municipality. The cause of the problem was the constant bursting of the main pipeline from Pudumong, about 55km from Vryburg. This put a tremendous strain on the boreholes and forced the municipality to hire water delivery trucks to deliver water to Jojo Tanks which were installed in Huhudi and Colridge.

This problem is now under control due to the concerted effort by both the municipality and the Water Service Authority, Dr. Ruth Mompati District Municipality. In the past 6 months, the water levels at the Huhudi water reservoir have fluctuated between 90 – 100%. This is very encouraging and we plan to leave no stone unturned to maintain this level of service. The focus is squarely on the quality of water delivered in pursuit of the blue drop status.

Going forward, we are looking forward to the completion of the pipeline from Pudumong, including the construction of all the pump station required to guarantee reliable, uninterrupted water supply to our communities. Once the project is completed, we expect water supply to improve and interruptions to be minimised, if not eliminated. In the meantime, all the parties involved in the rendering of these services shall remain dedicated with this phenomenal task of delivering water by all means possible in the circumstances. ■

Integrated national electrification programme

COMMUNITY LIGHTING: EXT 25

Street lights in Extension 25

Naledi Local Municipality still improves safety for its communities. It is important that all communities should have lights in and outside of their homes. There are 65 streetlight poles erected and 386 fitted 250 X 70 Watt and 136 X 120 Watt lights at Extension 25. An estimate of 3987 will benefit from the lighting and five jobs were created.

Street and High Mast lights in Extensions 25 and 28

The project commenced in January 2015 and it was completed in May 2015. The value of the project is R2 322 466.12 and the amount approved is R3 951 400.16. Only 66% of the budget has been spent and the construction progress of the project is sitting at 95%.

High Mast lights

The project's duration is 7 months which started in January 2015 was completed in July 2015. The Project value is R4 381 245.39 and an amount of R5 000 000.00 has been approved. The expenditure of this project budget is at 61%.

The project's duration is 7 months which started in January 2015 is expected to be complete in July 2015. The construction of the lights is complete and most of them are working. Employment of 24 people was created.

The high mast light in Huhudi

Electrification of 600 Houses

Electricity is being installed in 600 houses at Extension 25, Vryburg. The project started in April 2015.

The value of the project is R9 030 688.94 and 63% of it has been spent. The amount of R9 730 000.00 was approved for the entire project and 19 jobs were created.

Construction of 22/11 KV Substation: Ext 25

The power substation at Extension 28.

A new substation that will light up 4000 houses of Extension 25 is 95% done and will be running in no time. This project entails the supply, delivery and installation of a 22/11 kV 5 MVA Electrical YND 1 Substation and the installation of a transformer and the supply and installation of a new 88 kV Chicadee line.

The 18 months project was started in November 2013 and was expected to be complete in May 2015 but due to certain technical developments it will push over to an uncertain date. The value of the project is R12 505 787.72 and R14 380 000.00 is the amount that was approved. Eighty five percent of the budget has been spent and the employment of 8 people was created.

Supply, Delivery and Installation of Smart Electricity Meters and Management System

This project entails the installation of a smart meter in a kiosk outside houses, the installation of a Consumer Interface Unit inside the house, a concentrator to communicate with the meters, a Check meter at the substation and a Meter Data Management System.

First of all, what is a smart meter?

A smart meter is usually an electronic device that records consumption of electric energy in intervals of an hour or less and communicates that information at least daily back to the utility for monitoring and billing. Smart meters enable two-way communication between the meter and the central system. Unlike home energy monitors, smart meters can gather data for remote reporting. Such an advanced metering infrastructure differs from traditional automatic meter reading in that it enables two-way communications with the meter.

The project started January 2015 and it will last for 36 months and it is expected to be complete in January 2018. ■

Skills Development

A positive change through Skills Development: Brick Laying Initiative

Naledi Local Municipality, the National Department of Environmental Affairs (DEA) has partnered with the National Department of Environmental Affairs, Quantity Surveyors and Project Managers, Mathews & Associates (M&A) in implementing the NW-Augmentation of our Landfill Site. The project is funded by the department through its Environmental Protection and Infrastructure Programme (EPIP) to the tune of R12 million.

The DEA is also providing support to the creation of waste management infrastructure such as a new cell, paving of the landfill site, provision of a weighbridge and waste sorting area where separation of recyclable material will be sorted. These initiatives will maximize socio-economic benefits through job creation, awareness and education through skills development.

M&A approached PPC to provide training for 120 workers in brick making, with the bricks produced to be used in the construction of the Naledi landfill site, which includes a landfill cell, a waste sorting area, a weighbridge, and paving and road works.

The project, which began in November 2014, will run for a period of twelve months. Once completed, the brick making machines will be handed over to the Naledi Municipality (Vryburg) where it can continue the momentum by assisting and upskilling workers. This will empower the workers to build their small businesses through mentorship and training programmes, and access to the brick making machinery.

North West Area Manager, Marius Joubert says, "If you look at the National Development Plan, one of the key ways to curbing unemployment is through skills development. This is a great example of public and private sector collaboration that comes together for a common goal: the future of South Africa. At PPC, we will be rolling out brick making courses across the country in 2015. This is just one of the ways we are playing our part."

Part of the agreement is to provide skills that allow workers from local communities, and who worked on the project, to start their own businesses once the project has been completed. With these skills they can build a better life for themselves, their families and the communities they live in. ■

Let the children play

Let the Children Play in our Newly Revamped Sports Facilities

Part of our powers and functions is to develop sports and recreation facilities and let the children play. To this end we have embarked on a project to revamp both Huhudi and Colridge Sports facilities. The project has been completed, completely transforming both facilities with new surfaced athletic tracks, artificial turfs for soccer pitches, revamping of dressing rooms, a new care-taker's house, covering walls etc.

Never again shall the children of Huhudi and Colridge walk long distances to town for school athletics because we have brought these state-of-the-art facilities to their doorstep, right where they live. We hope that these facilities will have the youth engaged in different sporting codes ranging from athletics, football, netball, body-building, boxing, basketball and so on. Ultimately, we must be able to produce professional sport stars in the class and caliber of Fabian McCarthy, Edwin Setae, Naem Johnson, Thapelo Yawa, Rhee Mereekae, Blessing Mothusi, General Sibidla, etc. we hope to involve these legends to motivate the youth to take part in sports and emulate their examples. ■

Crime prevention

Crime Prevention and Boosting Investor Confidence and Tourism

Recovered goods returned to the police by the Naledi Crime patrollers

Gone are the days when the streets of Vryburg CBD used to be controlled by a criminal gang which used to prey on old and vulnerable citizens, especially women, snatching their handbags, breaking into their cars, robbing them in broad daylight. These criminal elements used to do this with impunity secure in the knowledge that chances of being caught were limited, not to mention their successful prosecution.

This adversely affected the local economy and turned away potential investor. Being responsible for creating an environment which is conducive to local economic development, we were left no other option but to take the bull by the horns and reclaim these streets from perpetrators of violent crimes and return peace and security for shoppers and passers-by alike.

In the past two years, we have recovered many stolen goods and, working with the police, returned the goods to their rightful owners – much the appreciation of the community. Attempts have been made by the criminal element to reclaim the streets of Vryburg and resume acts of intimidation and violent robbery. Our young crime fighters have stood their ground and put their lives on the line in defense of their parents, brothers, sisters and their children.

We have also installed surveillance cameras to enhance our chances of catching criminals and ensuring their successful prosecution. This is also meant to serve as a deterrent against acts of criminality. The car guards at major shopping centres have also been roped in, formalized and put on the payroll of EPWP because of the deterrent effect of their casual jobs.

We appeal to big business to support this initiative by donating the much-needed things such as vans, cars, minibuses and uniform and protective clothing and devices so as to assist the sustenance of this project. We also appeal to the community members to report crime to the police and assist with the successful prosecution of criminals so as to rid our town of these anti-social elements. ■

Maintenance of Infrastructure through EPWP, CWP and Contract Employees

The Extended Public Works Program funded by the Department of Public Works and Naledi Local Municipality and the Community Works Program, funded by Cooperative Governance and Traditional Affairs are the pillars of our service delivery workforce. Without these workers, there would be a huge crisis in terms of the shortage of staff to deliver services such as roads maintenance repairs, maintenance of parks, cleaning of the environment, refuse removal, digging of graves and maintenance of cemeteries, cleaning of offices and public amenities.

There are 404 Expanded Public Works Programme (EPWP) beneficiaries, 714 Community Work Programme (CWP) beneficiaries in our municipality who deliver the abovementioned essential services. Though some may give the program a bad name by loitering doing nothing, most of the roads have been rebuilt by EPWP beneficiaries and we owe the cleanliness of our town to these beneficiaries. We salute the youth who are engaged in this youth service to their community.

EPWPs, CWP and contract workers resealing the Mahikeng road

EPWPs, CWP and contract workers resealing the Mahikeng road

Due to their commitment and hard work, some EPWP beneficiaries have graduated from being EPWP to being contract workers, the so-called capital workers. This group of temporary workers is the reason things have improved and we count on them to strive for and maintain the high standard of service. They do this without the benefits such as job security that comes with being permanent, without medical aid, pension fund and a salary enjoyed by permanent workers. ■

Farewell Dr Ruth Segomotsi Mompati

The President, Premier and South Africa Bid Farewell to Dr. Ruth Segomotsi Mompati

On the fateful morning of May the 11th 2015, our worst fears became reality when we lost our mother, Mama Ruta Mompati. It was a privilege to have been led and guided by her, to have had her as mayor of our municipality. But exactly who was she and why was her passing such a big deal? Here's why:

Mama ruta: The quintessential human being, a worthy and inspiring leader and a comforter"

Mama Ruta, as she was affectionately known, was a nurturer, a guardian, and a selfless principled leader. She was firm, strict but structured, balanced and a gentle human being who was also a devout Christian. She was a loving mother and grandmother to all and always carried herself elegantly.

True to her name Segomotsi, which means "Comforter" in Setswana, she was to play the role of mother, aunt, sister, friend and grandmother to the hundreds of young and old who found themselves separated from their own as a result of Apartheid brutality.

President: Jacob Zuma with his wife, Deputy President: Cyril Ramaphosa, National Speaker: Baleka Mbete and Chairperson of the African Union: Nkosazana Zuma bidding farewell to Mama Ruta

Early life

Ruth Segomotsi Mompoti was born in Ganyesa Village in the District of Vryburg on the 14th of September 1925. She grew up in Tlapeng – a rural environment in Ganyesa (now Kagisano). Between 1933 and 1936 she attended United Vryburg Primary School. From 1937 to 1940 she attended United Vryburg Higher Primary School, where she completed standard 6 (six).

Two years later, she enrolled at the Tiger Kloof Educational Institution, where she received her Native Lower Primary Certificate. She started her teaching career at Dithakwaneng Primary School near Vryburg in 1944 at the age of nineteen. In 1948 she transferred to the United School in Vryburg, where she continued her teaching career. When she got married in 1952 she lost her job as a teacher because the apartheid laws regulated that married black female teachers were not allowed to teach.

Work in the ANC and Exile

She moved to Johannesburg in 1952 and it was at this stage that she officially joined the ANC becoming a member of the Orlando branch. In 1953 she took up employment with the first black law partnership Mandela and Tambo, Attorneys at Law, as a Secretary. In the words of the late President of the ANC, Comrade Oliver Tambo (known for his perfectionist approach on anything): “Sis Ruth is the best secretary we had”.

In 1954, she became a member of the National Executive Committee of the ANC’s Women’s League and, together with Helen Joseph and Lillian Ngoyi, was among the founding members of the Federation of South African Women (FEDSAW).

Ruth Mompoti was one of the central figures in organizing the historic 9th August 1956 march by over twenty thousand women of all races, to Pretoria. This show of force to demonstrate against extension of the hated pass books for women was honoured by the day being declared South African Women’s Day by the democratic government. As an active member of the ANC, Mama Ruta also received the unwelcome attentions of the apartheid regime’s Security Police. When the ANC was banned in 1960, the firm for which she worked underwent complete transformation. OR Tambo was assigned the task of leaving the country to mobilise international solidarity; Nelson Mandela was detained for five months in terms of the State of Emergency the regime declared after the Sharpeville Massacre. Mama Ruta, working under the direction of Moses Kotane, was among the group of cadres who set about re-organising the ANC as an underground movement.

In 1962 there was an unexpected turn of events. Nelson Mandela had been operating from underground since May 1961. Tambo was setting up the ANC in exile. Mama Ruta slipped out of South Africa into neighbouring Botswana (then known as Bechuanaland) for what was planned as a mission of a few months. While she was outside South Africa, the South African police arrested the top ANC leaders in the course of a raid on the underground headquarters of Umkhonto we

Mr Bonolo Modise, a relative speaking at the funeral

Sizwe (MK) in the Rivonia suburb of Johannesburg. The movement decided it was too risky for her to return. She was amongst the first women to join MK and underwent military training in the Soviet Union in 1963. While in exile she held office as Secretary and Head of the Women's Section of the ANC.

Between 1966 and 1973 she served on the Executive Committee of the Women's Section. During 1966, she was transferred to the ANC's office in Zambia, but continued commuting between Tanzania and Zambia during the course of her work in ANC President OR Tambo's office.

Ruth mompati – the global activist for women's rights

The Women of South Africa, through the Federation of South African Women, aligned with progressive forces that came together following the Second World War. The Women's International Democratic Federation (WIDF) became the vehicle through which women expressed their hopes for lasting peace.

In 1976 Ruth Mompati was sent by the ANC to represent South African women at the WIDF. It was while in that role that she again displayed immense leadership roles in the struggles of women, children and oppressed peoples of the world. She fought fiercely for the struggles of the people of Palestine, Western Sahara and other areas of conflict. She used that time to forge close ties with the World Federation of Democratic youth (WFDY) and the World Federation of Trade Unions (WFTU). The theme of the Decade for Women (1980-1990) which was Equality, Development and Peace was coined by Mme Ruth and her colleagues at the WIDF.

One of Mama Ruta's more prominent roles was as Head of the ANC's Board of Religious Affairs. Returning from that posting, the ANC appointed her as its Chief Representative in the United Kingdom and Western Europe between 1981 and 1983. She returned to Lusaka to serve in the Executive of the Women's Section and working with the Religious community.

When the ANC met for its Second National Consultative Conference at Kabwe, Zambia in June 1985, Mama Ruta was elected to the National Executive Committee (NEC). In that capacity, she was appointed to serve as Administrative Secretary in the Secretary-General's Office and onto the four-person Secretariat that coordinated the work of the NEC. Her performance in that role earned her promotion to Joint Secretary of the Politico-Military Council (PMC), serving alongside Comrade Josiah Jele, in 1988. Mama Ruta's role was the coordination of the internal underground work of the movement during those most critical years.

Premier: Supra Mahumapelo, National assembly Speaker: Baleka Mbete, Chairperson of NCOP: Thandi Modise, Minister: Dipuo Peters, Darky Africa and Kgosi Tshepo Mankurwane amongst those who came to comfort the family during the memorial service at Huhudi Stadium.

Home coming and role in government

In 1990, she was chosen to be part of the ANC delegation that negotiated the peaceful transition with the Government of FW De Klerk at Groote Schuur. At the ANC's forty-eighth conference, the first held in South Africa in 30 years, she was re-elected to the NEC. In 1993 she was re-elected as National Executive Member of the Women's League.

She addressed the United Nations Special committee against Apartheid in August 1992 on the subject of Women. The day was declared an International Day of Solidarity with Women in South Africa.

Mama Ruta participated fully in the re-establishment of ANC branches in Johannesburg and in the various towns of what became the North West and Northern Cape Province respectively. She was instrumental in ensuring that Sol Plaatje's house was purchased for preservation. Today Sol Plaatje's house is a library, a museum and a heritage site. As a result of Mama Ruta's efforts, two municipalities were named after struggle icons, John Taolo Gaetsewe and Joe Morolong. She was also one of the people, together with the late Mitah Seperepere, involved in establishing the Helen Joseph Women's Development Centre,.

In 1994 she was elected to the National Assembly and served as an MP from 1994 -1996. In 1996 she was appointed as Ambassador to Switzerland, serving in that capacity until 2000.

In recognition of her exemplary service to her people, Mama Ruta was awarded an Honorary Master's Degree in Education by the University of the North West Province in 1996. She was later awarded an Honorary Doctorate by the Medical University of South Africa.

In 1996 Mama Ruta Mompoti was invited by the University of Texas in the United States of America to deliver a lecture on the role of the ANC in the peaceful transition to a Democratic South Africa. The Huston-Tillotson University, Austin, Texas, established a scholarship in her name: the Dr. Ruth Segomotsi Mompati Scholarship Fund. Several beneficiaries of that scholarship went to study abroad and qualified with various degrees.

On her return to her hometown, Vryburg in 2000, she found a community divided along racial lines. The ANC deployed her to contest the position of Mayor of Naledi Local Municipality and she won with a handsome majority. She did an excellent job uniting the people of Naledi Municipality, which later honoured her by erecting a bust statuette for her efforts to consolidate the vision of a free society in the country she helped liberate. She served two terms in the Mayoralty after which she left fulltime political deployment but continued to serve the community in various capacities. She served on many boards, including the Swiss-South Africa Corporative Initiative Trust, of which she was chairperson and the Tiger Kloof Board of Trustees, an institution she helped re-establish after it was closed down in the 1950's.

Mama Ruta Segomotsi Mompati was the God-Mother of SAS Manthatsi (S101), named after Manthatsi, the warrior queen of the Batlokwa during the early 19th century. She had the honour of commissioning the craft in 2005.

Grandchildren saying their last words

Mama Ruth Mompoti's tribute from the military veterans after arriving home from Cape Town on a plane at the Vryburg Aerodrome

While she was serving as Mayor of Naledi Local Municipality, she established a twinning arrangement with Assen Gemeente (Community) in the Netherlands that still holds her in high esteem.

On 28th of February 2007, Bophirima District Council adopted Resolution 2007/11, renaming the Municipality after her in recognition of her dedication towards the emancipation of all South Africans.

Family and community life

In 2009, using the facilities of the old Vryburg Hospital, she established a donor funded Hospice on her own initiative. The facility is still in operation, providing care to terminally ill patients. To ensure that her legacy lives on long after she is gone, Mama Ruta established the Ruth Segomotsi Mompoti Foundation, its key focus areas being:

- Educational Upliftment;
- Women Empowerment;
- Reconciliation among different Races;
- HIV/AIDS Awareness, Prevention and Treatment;
- Arts, Culture and Heritage.

Awards and honors received

For her role in the struggle, she received the following honours:

- Human Rights and Democracy Award (2004)*
- Citation: Military Award: Platinum Class 2 for Distinguished Contribution in the Struggle, conferred by President J.G Zuma (2010)*
- Isithwalandwe/Seaparankwe on behalf of the ANC conferred by President J.G. Zuma (2014)*
- Mahatma Gandhi Satyagraha Award (2014)*
- Special Award for contribution to Freedom and Human Rights by the Black Management Forum (2014)*
- Ubuntu: Oliver Tambo Life Time Achievement Award conferred by President J.G Zuma (2015)*

Mama Ruta was blessed with two sons, Mompoti and Galeitsiwe (Tebogo). Both her sons were also involved in the liberation struggle. They unfortunately passed on before her. She is survived by her niece Sindi, grandchildren Boitumelo, Neo (junior), Neo (senior), Sindi (junior) Thembani, Themba, Makhosi and Buhle, together with the scores of children that she nurtured as her own. ■

Fresh and New Vryburg Designers to Launch their Brands in Red Carpet Style

Botaqi design hub and projects Pty Ltd, is a new business founded and established by three young black people, 2 females and 1 male from Huhudi, Kealeboga Lebo Maruping (fashion designer) and director behind the company, Patrick Morolong (fashion designer /AD) and Olive Butshwane as (animator/illustrator).

We collaborated with various skills and the ability to drive a business that forms a one stop design hub. We currently mostly focused in fashion design, clothing, décor and graphics and art. Our diverse and specialist of expertise spans a wide range of platform of designs (fashion, retail, manufacturing, graphics, art and media, interior décor and events management).

The Botaqi design hub and projects intends to took the area by storm by showcasing their artwork while creating fashion awareness and promotion to the people of the region and the entire province. As part of Bokone Bophirima provincial government principle mandate on empowering the economy of villages, townships and small dorpias, we are privileged to have been funded machinery by (FEED) Finance Economy and Enterprise development, and Naledi Local Municipality provided premises for some period on contract to operate our business. SEDA has also funded us with promotional material package. The NYDA partnered with us to make the fashion show a success.

As we celebrate heritage month (September) in South Africa, this was our chance to tell a contemporary African Story in a bigger audience than we ever had, and engage with our own province as we build brands or create work that will hold attention. It doesn't matter whether fashion, art, music photography, or product design is; we have creativity that is waiting to be unearthed. That's where we feature Poetry, opera and contemporary dance.

The brand was launched. The was a Spring/summer collection fashion show held on the 12th September 2015. Naledi moves forward with the times. ■

Naledi sport

Naledi local Municipality hosted the provincial municipal games

The Naledi Local Municipality Sports Unit has structured the sports development in three main pillars; an enabling environment, an active Naledi and a winning Naledi. In these pillars, the Sport Unit has set its key performance indicators.

Enabling environment;

Huhudi and Colridge Stadiums are almost completed. After phase 1, Huhudi stadium will have an artificial football field, a computerized irrigated natural grass field, two netball/volleyball courts, an artificial athletic track and two ablution blocks.

The old pavilion situated next to the artificial field had to be broken down due to safety reasons. Hopefully a new pavilion will be rebuilt in phase 2 if funds are available. Other facilities that will erect in phase 2 are 2 tennis courts, 2 basketball courts and upgrading of the two Club Houses (kiosks).

The Sports Unit is also thriving to ensure that school grounds and other facilities are upgraded and increased in Naledi. Seven lotto applications were delivered to the National Lotto Board in 2014. Two of these applications were based on a merge between schools and community sport teams. The two schools (Bopaganang and Pule Leeuw) were able to apply for more funding which will benefit the two parties in the Memorandum of Understanding.

The Sports Unit has also been to the remote villages within Naledi to get their needs concerning sport facilities. As Dithakwaneng has a tribal authority, it is recognized as a legal entity by the National Lotto Board. We are waiting for Lotto to open up their applications period for these kinds of entities.

Active Naledi

In the sport club establishment we have made slow progress. We managed to meet with some of the school principals and or SGB members together with team owners and representatives of local sport federations (SAFA (football), NSA (Netball) and SBA (Basketball)). Follow up meetings are planned and the Provincial Sport Academy has agreed to assist to train the new to establish sport clubs in how to run a sport club.

The Sport Unit has been a mediator between the football teams in Stella and the Local Football Association. As it is a aim of the Sport Unit to structure the sport in Naledi and have all teams/clubs affiliated to the local sport federations and playing structured league competition, 14 teams from Stella have agreed to work hard to raise the money to affiliate, to have all their players registered and to fulfil all other requirements set by the LFA. In the next football season, we should have a local league played in Stella.

With the assistance of the Provincial Basketball structure, Dr Ruth Mompoti and Naledi Local Municipality have their district and local structures in place. Schools have been given full basketball kits and equipment to start this sport code playing at their schools. Having this sport code structured, it does give pressure on the local Municipality to see how to assist them with facilities. The planned constructions of the basketball courts in the revamping of the stadiums have been moved to the second phase. The NLM Sport Unit will work hard to find the funding needed to erect those courts in the stadiums.

Winning Naledi

A winning Naledi comes from a broad base of (foundation) players which have been properly trained by qualified coaches. On the 17th and 18th of April we hosted a local Netball level 1 course. We had 16 coaches trained by the Netball federation who are better equipped now to teach our young players to play Netball. After the successful netball course, a new Netball team in Kismet Park was formed in January 2015. The team had a friendly match in Huhudi on the 13th June 2015 which was their first ever match. Despite losing the game, they are still very enthusiastic and eager to get back on the court.

The SAFA football coaches' D license didn't come to practise due to disagreement in the SAFA region to be it a local course. The NLM Sport Unit had raised the funds to have a local course organized. A regional course is far more expensive and will fall outside our demarcation. The Sport Unit is currently busy with the KNVB (the Dutch National Football Association) to have a Discovery course, a 5 days course which is accredited by SAFA as their D license course, at local level for the Naledi football coaches.

The Provincial Sport Academy started to build the District Academy of Sports gym at Gert Lubbe. This gym will not be open to the public but is strictly meant for regional squad teams which will benefit from the expertise what the gym will bring in; highly qualified fitness instructors, a biokineticist, a dietician and other qualified sport performance professions which will assist the individual player in their development to grow into sport persons representing the Dr Ruth Mompoti District in the provincial and national squads.

Progress is there, some a bit slower than others but we keep working to get to a more active Naledi in enabling sport environment! ■

There were no complaints about the pitch being bumping or any criticism of some sort. We have high class facilities and we say that in confidence

The MultiChoice Diski Challenge consists of 16 teams which are representative of the general PSL. The two groups play against each other in an eight-team competition that comprises of group stages, quarterfinals, semi-finals and finals. The rules and regulations of this league are determined by the PSL. Platinum Stars has met up with the officials of Naledi Local Municipality and Dr Ruth S Mompati District Municipality to host their games in Vryburg. This is the biggest event we've had in years hosted at our sporting facilities. Platinum Stars played University of Pretoria over the weekend of 12 September 2015 and plan to host more of their home games in Naledi. Platinum Stars represents our province in the PSL and Naledi Local Municipality is a proud supporter of Dikwena. ■

Dries Van Wyk and Wilton Viljoen of Afriforum plant a tree together

Mr Herman Swanepoel speaks on behalf of Afriforum and explains the meeting in his view and what heritage is for us as Naledi

Representatives of Afriforum together with the Naledi Local Municipality's Administrative management visited Hayes park to reap what they have sown. The Municipal Manager touched on the importance of development and maintenance of our infrastructure and all other facilities. Mr Appolus spoke about the importance of civil society organisations and its necessity. It is no coincidence that Arbor week and Heritage are both in the same month. They represent culture, life and history. A tree was planted and both parties view this encounter as a symbol of unity of servants that will better the lives and rights of our community. The Municipal Manager Modisenyane Segapo, Mr Appolus and Mr Herman Swanepoel all spoke about how the deeds office is one of the few remaining symbols of our heritage and a boost to our economy in Naledi and why we shouldn't let it go.
